

Junk Xmas presents?

London's award-winning junk removal service, Any Junk?, continues to grow apace. It now runs six 'elephant trucks', and a further four arrive in March 2007. Each day brings more surprises in the world of Any Junk? in terms of the interesting items collected. Some of the more recent bizarre items have included a full-length Indian headdress, a chandelier from Lambeth Palace and even a half-size scale model of a helicopter cleared from Oxfam.
